We handle our resources carefully, treat our fellow human beings with respect, and consider the consequences of our actions at all times. That is why we have anchored sustainability within our strategic corporate goals and formulated correspondingly strict standards. Our group-wide sustainability policy is based on our code of conduct. This is supplemented by globally applicable guidelines and standards in the five focus areas - resource management, health and safety, work and society, suppliers and innovation. We are taking clear steps towards a sustainable company development. We can make a difference together.
